DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of the species requirement in Paper No. 6 received November 10, 2003 is acknowledged. The traversal is not based on any grounds. The Amendment to the claims has been received along with the traversal. As a result of the Amendment, all the pending claims will be examined, as upon further review no species requirement is present. Applicant cancelled claims 56 and 62-64.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-55, 57-61 and 65-68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Salvo, US 6,341,271.

Salvo discloses a computer implemented inventory management system 100 using historical analysis of inventory 150 based on a business objective history, e.g. col. 3, lines 40-62, where a stocking plan is implemented according to the business objectives. A global communication network, e.g. 123, may be used to implement the inventory management system 100. Salvo does not specifically disclose various common knowledge computer implemented accessories, e.g. a graphical user interface, a check box, a touchpad, a pointing stick, and an electronic pen, along with the inventory management system 100. However, to have provided these common knowledge and extremely well-known computer system accessories to implement the inventory management system 100 of Salvo would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art. Doing such would use a computer system designed to interface with a communication network, e.g. 123, disclosed by Salvo.

3. Further pertinent references of interest are note on attached PTO-892.
4. Applicant's Information Disclosure Statement has been reviewed. Note attached PTO-1449.
